

Candidate for City Council District 1

Scott Cowdell (Incumbent)

Scott L. Cowdell, running for City Council unopposed in District #1. Scott is looking forward to your continued support for a fifth term. If you have any questions regarding his position on any issue, please call: 571-2216.

Candidate for City Council District 4

Chris McCandless (Incumbent)

Creating well-planned and beautiful communities has been the focus of Chris McCandless' professional career. As a real estate developer since 1990, McCandless has had a breadth of experience in every aspect of planning and zoning—areas that are also the focus of many of the decisions made by Sandy's City Council. McCandless has good working relations with many government agencies including the Department of Transportation, water districts, sewer departments, and planning commissions in neighboring cities. Being an avid outdoorsman, he is also innately sensitive to the conservation and ecological concerns of development. He believes common sense must rule. We all need places to live and to do business and yet we also need places for recreation and enjoyment.

McCandless is a staunch supporter of private property rights. Within reason, every citizen is entitled to use his or her own property to his own economic and personal benefit as long as it does not jeopardize another person's ability to utilize his property. Common ground can usually be found, and McCandless has two decades of experience in helping find common ground among municipalities, landowners, and other governing agencies.

As a business owner, McCandless well understands the needs of business owners as well as the need to have sound fiscal practices.

McCandless is also firmly vested in the social and civic well-being of Sandy. A resident for the past 27 years, McCandless is also a member of the board of the South Valley Boys and Girls Club, the Honorary Colonels of Sandy, the Jordan Education Foundation, Rotary International, and the Sandy Sister Cities Committee. He has also been a Scout leader for the past ten years and has aided numerous boys in achieving the rank of Eagle.

